Art Unit: 1745

1. In view of JP-7-245092 cited in the IDS filed April 29, 2003 and applied as outlined below, the present application has been withdrawn from issue so that the following rejection may be applied.

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1, 3, 8 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP-7-245092. ('092) (New Rejection).

See the English language Abstract to '092 and the corresponding drawings. Each of the respective group of electrodes are welded, i.e., clamped to their respective collector.

4. Claims 1, 3-9, 12-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hamada et al.-6,551,741. (Hamada) (New Rejection)

Reference is made to Figures 2 and 4-7 of Hamada along with column 3, line 61 through column 7, line 15. These portions disclose the C-shaped collector, the coupling of the plurality of cell cases and the size of the plates as specifically claimed.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to John S. Maples whose telephone number is 703-308-1795. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Thursday from 6:15-3:45.
